Lowell High School

Class of 2014

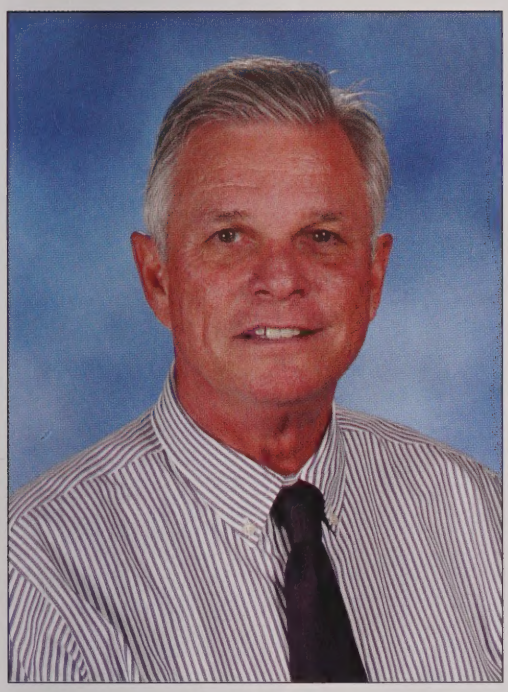
Message from Headmaster Martin

Class Picture

Seniors

Class Officers

...from Headmaster Brian Martin



On behalf of the teachers, administrators and staff I want to wish the graduates of Lowell High School Class of 2014 good fortune and great success.

You are entering a fast changing global society with many challenges ahead.

Our hope is that your time at Lowell High School has prepared you to be "life-long" learners, ready and willing to meet these challenges each day. Good luck.

I Can Smell the Autumn Air

Elmer Martinez

Can't you smell it?!

The bristling of the autumn air is creeping steadily under our noses the Merrimack shivers in anticipation of the flakes of crystal that wil soon kiss her forehead delicately and seductively.

Can't you smell it?!

The sound of the fallen givers of life? They sing sweet harmonies tha crescendo with every footstep their vibrato is flawless as their swee pitches of crunch crunch crunch make you wonder if you are truly walking alone

Can't you Just smell it?!

The old soul's knickerknocking on your door, loitering your front porch masked in suits of innocence asking the eternal question "tric or treat" these words resonate over and over throughout the hallowe night.

Why, can't you smell it?!

The warm turkey dinners and sacred saucers stuffed to the brim wit mashes and sauces of all textures. Browns reds and oranges make their presence known as prevalent members of the food pyramid thu making us pucker savor and plead for "just one more slice grandma

I know you can smell it!

Inhale a deep breath of air this air that is haunting and invigorating. This air that strokes your fingers with a warning that soon they will b a flash frozen product of mother nature's bad side
Breathe and fear not for the safety of your bone s, but for the warmt of that scolding sip of hot chocolate do rejoice. For in its warmth you find a treasure cove of childlike comfort in your chest that brings a smirk to your already chapped lips

I hope you can smell it.

For The air of a fableized New England autumn dost caress our flushed pink cheeks and with her she carry the spirits of a plentiful harvest.

Communications involves the TV production students. TV production includes filming outside shoots such as football games, concerts, making segments for the Red Raider Report, making short films, documentaries, and Public Service Announcements. This class is a great introduction into the film world for students. It teaches them how to direct, do camera work, and make films of their own. The TV production classes are also responsible for making the Red Raider Report.

National Honor Society

2013-2014

Lowell High School's 86th annual National Honor Society Induction Ceremony took place on December 10, 2013. There were 106 returning seniors, 28 new seniors, and 107 new junior members.

The teachers that were honored this year were Stephen Gervais, Jr., head of the Foreign Language and ELL Departments, and John Mellanakos, a health education teacher.

Some of the NHS events that have taken place this year involved helping out at a local soup kitchen and raising money for the Salvation Army. NHS members also hosted an Elf movie event at the high school.

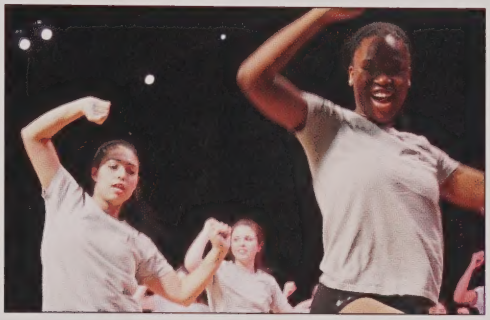
Dance



Seniors Grace Barclay, Ayanah Dowdye, Brianna Kelley, Kenneth Meth, and Paola Tristan Arruda

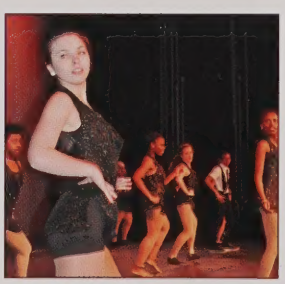
Hardwork There is more than meets the eye for a dance recital. Hardwork is happening both on-stage and off!

Pumping up the crowd These dancers broke it down and got everybody pumped up during the pep rally!

Dancing the night away
With a flick of the wrist and a kick of their foot these dancers really got down in this hip 50's number.

Down low
Waiting for the chance to strut her stuff this dancer patiently waits on stage.

The more the merrier
Everybody had a chance to shine in this super cool group piece.



Smiling for the camera
This dancer pulled off and ultra-chic pose while on stage giving the camera something to look at.

The Lowell Chapter hosted countless workshops, activities, and volunteer opportunites throughout Lowell including many at the Immaculate Conception School Parish Picnic & Christmas Fair, Reilly School Open House, Greenhalge School Vendor Fair, as well as School Store under the Friday Night Lights. Members also led in-school initiatives to earn Torch points through the BPA Award system including Carlos Gonzalez (affliated with BPA since Grade 8 because of his sister Ms. BPA 2010 Neisha Gonzalez). Chair Grace Cordero & Tinson Lam display ads for the 2013 Red Ribbon Week Activities. 2011 President Lilo Altali & Mikey Doung create Valentine cards for the elderly. Emily Wilcox got her Em's Sweet Treat business up & running with the Minion prototype for Jackyie Cruz's Homecoming Queen campaign. Students traveled to the National Leadership conferences in Chicago, Orlando & Indiana after competing at SLC in Framingham.

Pay Up Collecting for Trick or Treat for UNICEF, Robert DelGrosso, Meisang Hong, Princess Mac & Jackyie Cruz set up in the cafe during lunches.

Leader Up Getting assistance from outside resources including LGH Maureen Fitzpatrick & Career Center of Lowell Beatriz Sierra for Interview Skills in the Droney Little Theatre.

Volunteers Up
Face Painting at Open House Nights earned volunteer hours & Torch Award points for Cheymony Fennell, Lindy Reed, Narie Phim, Jennie Casey, Rafal Thaher & Nicole Zapata.

Meet me under the Clock

The Clock Committee, comprised of students from the Classes of '14, '15, '16, under the leadership of Headmaster Brian Martin and Student Activities Coordinator Tom Thornton, began a year-long mission to bring back the clock, a gift of the Classes "37, "38, 39. Fundraising, radio appearances, and newspaper stories, helped them get closer to their goal.

Cross Country

The Boys Lowell Cross Country team is not just any regular running team, it is a brotherhood. We do everything together, all year round. Some people might even think we do not take running seriously. However, when it comes time to racing all the goofiness disappears and it is replaced by a bunch of tense, fierce competitors. We do not race to win for ourselves, but we race to win for our teammates and that is why we succeed together.

Crew

Crew is different than most sports. It's the epitome of a team based sport. We rely on each other, there's no time outs, no breaks, or half-times. From the coxswain to bow, in eights or fours we move as one. Synced up at every stroke, our oarlocks clicking at the same time as we walk on water. 2k's, 4k's, 5k's and 6k's we move together towards a common goal, crossing the finish line and walking other boats. This team becomes an extension of your family. The boathouse and river become your home. I'm sure I can speak for everyone on my team when I say looking back on my high school years some of my best friendships and memories come from the sport. I love this sport and the people involved in it and will miss it dearly when I graduate.

I want to give a huge thanks to Mary Jacques. She has had a positive influence on me and made me into a better person. Chef Jacques would always lend a hand or a shoulder to cry on when I needed one. Its nice knowing that someone is there for me. She would always say wise things to keep me going and honestly if it wasn't for her I wouldn't of made it through high school. Thank you so much Chef Mary Jacques! I would also like to thank Jan Barrett, for being a great advisory teacher and genuinely caring about each and every one of her students. I would like to thank you for being so generous and caring and helping me realize so much about life. Thank you so much! -Chanda Long

Throughout my time at school, I have only had a handful of teachers, none more so impactful than and as great at their job as Mrs. Ornella Bascuñán. Always wanting to improve, she's never afraid of taking input from her students and being open with herself. My time spent will in her class with always to be remembered for the rest of my life. To you and to Mr. Dominguez, Dr. Jumper, Mr. Arwe, Mrs. Colloca, Mr. Szecskas, and Mrs. Goggin, thank you for not only being my teachers but also choosing to become educators. -Simthyrearch Dy

Mr.Dominguez is not only a great teacher, he is also a great person. No student would disagree that physics is easily one of the hardest subjects however, all would agree that having Mr. Dominguez was a blessing. The effort he puts into helping students, encouraging them to try harder, never accepting giving up and challenging them when necessary is unbeaten. His presence and humor is refreshing, and his smile and waves in the halls are enough to make your whole day. I would like to thank you Mr. Dominguez for all your hard work and for being such a great teacher and enjoyable person, you made junior year AP physics a great memory. -Lisa Degou

For many of us, we've come to the end of our two years of AP Calculus. While some have just joined us this year, the feeling of appreciation for our amazing, devoted, understanding, and reliable teacher is mutual. For such a challenging class, Mrs. Ferreira's structure and dedication to emphasizing our strengths while addressing each of our weaknesses surely allowed for us to prosper. Her availabilty, even while her beautiful family was growing, was always appreciated. There aren't enough words to truly thank you properly Mrs. Ferreira, just know that your impact was tremendous and you are loved. - Your AP Calculus BC students.

I would like to thank Mrs. Mendonca for everything she has done for all of her students and I within the last three years. Having her for English my sophomore was extremely helpful. She taught us all the importance of continuing our education and motivated us all everyday. She was definitely my favorite teacher throughout my 4 years at Lowell High due to not only her teaching style but also her sense of humor and positive attitude. She is definitely the know it all on the college process and how to motivate kids. I'm thankful I had the chance to meet her, I'll miss you beautiful! -Kiana Saint-Jean

House-Masters' Advice

Dear Class of 2014,
This class is so special to me. I started at LHS while you were sophomores. You were lucky that way, I had no idea what I was doing! You were scared of me and I was scared of you, I wasn't even sure I would know how to work with high school kids, I was used to middle schoolers. Quickly we came to have an understanding of each other and developed relationships. I appreciate the awesome diversity of your class. You're funny and talented and artistic and smart and enthusiastic. You are insightful and empathetic. I love that you are driven and athletic and deep thinkers. I will cherish the relationships that we have begun here at LHS. Promise me that you will go out and conquer the world but always remember to come back home - to your community of LHS and of Lowell and give back. Turn Up.
With Love,
Deidre Haley

Mrs. Vejar:
Dear class of 2014
It is with a great pleasure that I offer you my congratulations upon your success. Over the last four years you have learned many lessons both academically and in life. The most important lesson to be learned is that learning never ends, merely changes.I am very proud of all of you and I want to wish you good luckon all your future endeavors. Life is short. Enjoy and live your life to the fullest!
Mrs. Vejar

House-Masters' Advice

D-House

As you embark on your journey, I ask that you remember these three words: purpose, passion and perseverance. What is your intended result for your journey? Remember, you are here for a reason. Your purpose should be unique to you and you only. Be true to yourself. The heart doesn't lie and your purpose is waiting for you there. Listen to it and then make up your mind to go after it. Many of you will head off to college, some to protect our nation and others will join the workforce. Whatever you do next, have a purpose!

Passion is our motivation in getting what we want. Your passion will help you reach your destination and give it fuel on your journey. Stay passionate in whatever you do and always find ways to keep the flame going in order to reach your dreams. Now! Keep in mind that once you decide your purpose in life and pour your heart and soul into it; that it doesn't necessarily guarantee your success. Perseverance does! This is where you are going to have to dig deeper and have faith in yourself. Life will throw things at you! Your tenacity and persistence will help you overcome whatever is in your way to reach your destination. Good luck! I hope your purpose, your passion and your perseverance will guide every graduate on their journey and help each of you reach your destination!

Be great,

Tim O'Keeffe

Advice for your future; Work! You will have many jobs during your life and chances are you won't like most of them, but you will know when you've found what you're meant to do. And when you do, be good at it. Be productive members of society and please be proactive within your community. Where ever that may be. Look after the elderly, they have paved the way for us. Advice for college; don't stress! These are arguably the best years of your life. Manage your time well and make strong friendships, they will last a lifetime. Life lessons; Keep your family close, it's the only one you have. If you have broken relationships with any family members, mend them. Family will be there when you need them. And you will need them a lot. Take risks; always ask "Why not?" instead of "What if?" Don't be afraid of failure. This is important. To be successful, you need to learn to overcome much adversity and many obstacles in life. This is only after you experience failure. We only get one shot at this life, make the best of it. Final life lesson, find someone to love and love them will all your heart. It's healthy. Memories; Lowell is a unique place and when I think back to my fondest memories, I think of Lowell High School. Some of my classmates from 1989 are my closest friends! "Dream as if you'll live forever, Live as if you'll die tomorrow" – Unknown

My Best,

Mr. Slattery

What defines Mike's person, his legacy as we know it? In a word — wingspan.

Anyone who knew Mike, even if only for this past year, was amazed at his capacity to care for others. He was — despite his innate competitiveness and his many achievements and the excellence of his administration — mother hen to his family, his friends, and his department. The wings with which he enfolded others were enormous. He cared for those around him in many ways, helping his charges deal with illness and family emergencies, teaching young and not-so-young teachers how to be effective instructors, being a caring listener and active problem solver in a myriad of ways. The feathers under those wings were fluffy and downy when they needed to be, or they could be quite prickly if he knew that someone needed to fledge and fly out on her or his own. But those wings were always there for us and we knew it.
